About Robogals

Robogals is an international, not-for-profit, student-lead organisation that aims to inspire, engage and empower young women into engineering and related fields. This is achieved through fun and educational initiatives aimed at girls in primary and secondary school.

Since its inception in 2008, Robogals has engaged over 100,000 girls around the world. This reach is achieved through a wide network of volunteers, organised into chapters (volunteer groups) and coordinated through three regions: Asia Pacific; North America; and the Europe, Middle East and Africa region. Each year Robogals volunteers run ~1000 workshops, inspiring ~20,000 girls.

Robogals vision is of a global culture of inclusion and diversity in engineering. The organisation has adopted four pillars – values that support the Robogals mission and guide the team in their activities. These values are integrity, community, passion and innovation.

Purpose of the Role

The Robogals CEO is responsible for leading and evolving Robogals towards achieving its mission to inspire, engage and empower young women into engineering and related fields.

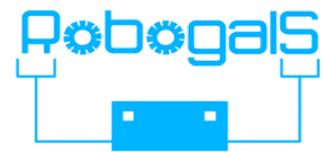

The Robogals CEO reports to the Robogals Board of Directors.

This is a rewarding role for a leader seeking purposeful outcomes, knowing that you are broadening the study and career goals for girls, positively impacting the diversity in engineering and related fields, and supporting volunteers work towards those same goals.
